

1 organization.

2           Until such time as the county adopts a plan
3   plan
4           or the General Assembly/becomes effective, the existing 5           county government shall have all the rights and powers
6           herein provided. The plan of organization shall be 7           amended by the electorate as provided therein and in 8           the absence of such provision as provided by petition or 9           recommendation of the governing body and approval of 10          the majority of the voters voting thereon.

11                         THE CHAIRMAN: You said in the earlier part 12                         of that draft by the citizens of the county. I assume 13                         that should be voters?

14                         MR. CLAGETT: That is what is meant.

15                         THE CHAIRMAN: And in the last sentence you
16                         said the charter shall be amended. I would take it 17                         should be may be amended.

18                         MR. CLAGETT: The plan of organization may 19                         be amended. Now this language I am indebted to for 20                         this approach, I am indebted to Mel Sykes and Dale 21                         Adkins and Franklin Burdette and Mrs. Kostritsky and all of us who gathered around last night with Governor
