

1 PROFESSOR ASPER: I think the section
2 referred to should not be in the Constitution at all.
3 I think it is an expression of lack of faith in the 4 Legislature and General Assembly which is understandable
5 in light of the recent reapportionment disputes.

6 THE CHAIRMAN: I will rephrase my question --
7 if it is to be included in the Constitution at all, it 8 should be in one or the other but you should not have 9 it in both. Is that not correct?

10 PROFESSOR ASPER: Certainly not conflicting,
11 as they apparently do here.

12 DR. BARD: Mr. Chairman, first let me
13 add that our consultants and our experts gave us the 14 opposite advice. They felt that if it should be any-15 where it should be here, so we have a conflict of 16 consultants. Let me now add that I still do not see 17 what is necessarily contradiction. For example, we do 18 say that the General Assembly shall redistrict the 19 State in accordance with the provisions of this article.

20 THE CHAIRMAN: The conflict comes about,
21 I think, Dr. Bard, in that I think most of us would
