

1 think we would have had far worse experiences. It opened
2 up to the whole state the nature of what was occurring
3 from my point of view.

4 I do believe the Legislative Department has 5 set forth the kind of protective measures in its 6 recommendation, I guess their recommendations in this 7 respect, so that one need not be concerned about this 8 particular requirement.

9 DR. BURDETTE: Does that include Congressional 10 districting?

11 DR. BARD: No, it is not included. It is a 12 good point.

13 MR. BOND: I can't understand why as a matter
14 of political theory redistricting should not be subject
15 to Congressional redistricting and perhaps gerrymandering
16 should not be subject to referendum. I assume with 17 Mr. Scanlan as to the practicality but as a matter of 18 theory, I can't see why redistricting should not be 19 subject to referendum.

20 MR. SCANLAN: I am opposed to the idea that 21 anything be subject to referendum under the new
