

WEDNESDAY, June 5th, 1861.

Mr. Kimmel presented the petition of John Zimmerman, of N., and fifty-four others, praying the Legislature to adjourn forthwith, and without day.

Also, the memorial of Ben. F. May, Alexander Evans, Samuel Smith, and one hundred and fifty-six others, citizens of Cecil county, respectfully representing their alarm at the propositions before the General Assembly of Maryland, declaring their fixed determination to resist, if necessary, by force, any attempt to drag Maryland into collision with the General Government.

Also, the petition of Alexander Evans, J. T. McCullough, Samuel Hickey, H. A. Hall, and seventy other citizens of Cecil county, solemnly protesting against the appointment by the Legislature of ambassadors, under the title of Commissioners, to other States, as a palpable violation of the United States Constitution; declaring, in their opinion, that the Delegates chosen under the reign of terror in Baltimore city should at once retire permanently from the positions they hold. They protest emphatically against the so-called Bill of Ratification of outrages lately committed in the city of Baltimore, and that the Legislature should immediately adjourn sine die.

Also, the memorial of A. H. Bennett, Henry H. Mullen, and seventy other citizens of Cecil county, protesting most solemnly against sending ambassadors, under the style of Commissioners, to the other States of the Union.

Also, memorial of Wm. Jones, John Harris, James A. Davis, and ninety-five citizens of Cecil county, under date of the 14th of last month, remonstrating against the passage of the bill repealing the 63d Article of the Code of Public General Laws, which provides for the enrollment of the militia of the State; protesting against the strange flag floating over our soil on the Maryland Banks of the Potomac river, and other matter, and advising the General Assembly to adjourn forthwith, as they can do no good for the people.

Also, memorial of William Boyd, Benj. C. Biddle, and other citizens of Cecil county, protesting against the sending by the Legislature of ambassadors to other States, as a clear violation of the Constitution of the United States; and solemnly protesting against the call of a Convention to determine whether the people of Maryland shall remain citizens of the United States, etc., etc.; protesting most solemnly against the passage of the so-called Bill
