1776

370. Dunlap's | Maryland Gazette; | or, the | Baltimore General Advertiser. | (Jan. 2-April 23, 1776, being Nos. XXXVI-LII of vol. I; April 30-Dec. 31, 1776, being Nos. LIII-LXXXVIII of vol. II.) [Colophon, Nos. XXXVI-LX as in year 1775; Nos. LXI-LXXXVII (probably to LXXXVIII) as follows:] Baltimore: Printed by John Dunlap, at his Printing-Office in Market-Street, where | Subscriptions at Ten Shillings per Annum, Advertisements, &c. are received for this Paper; also for the Pennsylv[ania Packet], and all manner of Printing Work done with the utmost expedition. |

16¼ x 9¾ inches; three columns; two leaves each number except No. 87, which has one leaf.

See Plate XIb for title arrangement.

Nos. 40, 41, 57, 61, 67, 82 have one "Postscript" each. No. 63 has three postscripts, one of which, dated "July 12, 1776", is on blue paper.

On April 16, No. 51, Dunlap announced that because of the increased cost of paper and of other things, he would be compelled to raise the subscription price to 15s. per annum, but on May 6th, he withdrew this statement without explanation and announced that the old price of 10s. would be continued. See foregoing narrative, Chapter Nine, for the later history of this newspaper.

MdHS. (lacks Nos. 38, 44, 55, 58, 59, 76, 78, 79, 81, 83 and 88.)

370a. See No. 351.

371. Extract of a letter from New York, dated Aug. 28, 1776. | Yesterday morning the enemy stole through the | wood I mentioned in my last, . . . [Annapolis: Printed by Frederick Green. 1776.]

Broadside. 10½ x 8½ inches.

Contains also extract from a letter from Philadelphia Aug. 31, 1776. Both of these letters give an account of the Battle of Long Island and the conduct of Smallwood's Maryland Battalion in that engagement.

In collection of Howard Sill, Esq. Baltimore.

372. GREAT BRITAIN. His Majesty's most gracious Speech to both Houses of | Parliament, on Friday, October 27, 1775. | [Annapolis: Printed by Frederick Green. 1776.]

Broadside. 10½ x 8½ inches.

Evans, No. 14786, attributes this in square brackets to Mary K. Goddard's press, but a comparison of it with the report in Green's Maryland Gazette shows conclusively that it was a reprint of the speech as published in that paper on Jan. 18, 1776.
