

CHAP. 225. plead and be impleaded, and to make, have and use, a common seal, and the same to break, alter and renew at pleasure; and generally to do all acts and things which may be necessary to carry into effect the provisions of this supplement.

Permanent contributors

2. And be it enacted, That any person who hath at any one time contributed, or shall hereafter contribute, to the said institution, the sum of fifty dollars, shall be considered, and is hereby declared to be, a permanent contributor, and as such entitled himself, or his proper representative, to give one vote for every fifty dollars so contributed, at all annual elections for directors and attending physicians to the said Second Dispensary, to recommend indigent sick to the care of the institution, and permanently to enjoy all the rights and privileges to which annual contributors are or shall be entitled, under this supplement, and under such by-laws as the directors shall from time to time make and establish; and any person who hath contributed, or shall contribute, to the use of said institution, the sum of five dollars, shall be deemed a contributor within the meaning of this supplement, for the term of one year next after the time of paying such contribution, and entitled to all the rights and privileges as such during said term.

Election of directors—their powers

3. And be it enacted, That the contributors to the Baltimore Second Dispensary, shall annually, on the first Monday in May, at such place and in such manner as the president and directors shall by their by-laws direct and appoint, elect twelve of the contributors to act as directors of the Second Dispensary, and the persons so elected shall be entitled to hold their office until a new election shall take place; and the directors, for the time being, shall have the power of filling all vacancies in their own body, occasioned by death, resignation, refusal to serve, or removal from the city or its precincts, of any director; to appoint their own president, and all other officers of their own institution, except the apothecary and attending physician, who shall be annually elected by the contributors, as the by-laws shall provide; to fix the salaries of the apothecary and attending physician, and prescribe their duties; to remove or displace any officer of the institution whom they may adjudge guilty of misconduct or neglect of duty, and appoint a person to fill the vacancy occasioned thereby, until the next annual election; to regulate the expenses, and manage the funds of the said institution; to make such rules and by-laws as may be necessary to carry into effect the provisions of this supplement in the most full and beneficial manner, or as they may think necessary for the promotion, regulation, government or convenience, of the said Second Dispensary, the same not being contrary to the laws and constitution of this state, or of the United States; and generally to do all acts and things which may appertain to them to do.

Interest only of investments to be used

4. And be it enacted, That the amount already invested by the directors of the Second Dispensary, in property or annuities, shall continue as a permanent fund, and the interest thereof shall alone be employed for the use of the said institution; and such sums as shall remain in the hands of the treasurer, after the debts of the institution have been paid, together with all
