An undated petition requesting the creation of a new county to be known as Paca County in honor of the governor of that name who was in office from 1782 to 1785. The petitioners, who claimed no other motive than making attendance at the county courts more easy, suggested that the new county be formed from the upper part of Baltimore county and the lower part of Frederick county. When these proposed boundaries are laid out on a map they form what is now known as Carroll County.
