

Broadside.

Published about August 1, 1791.

William M'Laughlin's handbill, To the independent electors of Baltimore-town and county, (see item 19) is a reply to this.

Not in Evans.

No copy located.

16 Hildrop, John, d. 1756

An / Essay / on / honour, / in / nine letters, / by / John Hildrop, D.D. / rector of Wath, in York-shire, England. / Published in the Weekly miscel-lany. / [double rule] / Elizabeth-Town, Maryland, / Reprinted by Stewart Herbert, 1791. //

8°. 22 cm.

Pages: [1-3], 4-15, [16], 17-87, [88-92].

Signatures: [A]⁴, B⁴-I⁴, K⁴-M⁴. (last leaf blank)

4 pages of subscribers' names.

"This work, having been wrote in England, and printed there in the Weekly miscellany, has now undergone a few trifling alterations, owing to local circumstances; but in no instance has the author's meaning been changed or affected" -
To the patrons of the work.

Evans 23441.

CSmH, NWA, MdHi, NN, PHi.17 Hollingsworth, Henry, d. 1803.

To the freemen of Cæcil county. / [first column begins; Gentlemen, / When first I saw an address to / you, signed William Mat- / thews, setting forth many ob- / jections to the road-law, and / the execution of it, I cheerfully entered / the list with the author, flattering myself, / that by a full investigation of the subject in / rational argument, that not only myself, / but the doctor, and every member of the / community (in the county,) who thought / themselves interested, would probably be / benefited thereby. ... / [68 additional lines of text in first column; five additional columns. Signed:] H. Hollingsworth. / Elkton, Sept. 23, 1791. //

~~Baltimore?~~ Printed by Goddard and Angell? 1791;

broadside: 42 1/2 x 53 cm.

Not in Evans.

RPJCB.