"Established, as a fortnightly, by Matthias Bartgis. No copies are known, but in 'Bartgis's Maryland gazette' of May 2, 1793, Bartgis announced that he had established at Frederick-Town, two newspapers, one in English - his Maryland gazette, and the other in the German language - Der General staatsbote. How long publication of the latter was continued is not known." - Evans.

Announced in Bartgis's Federal gazette of December 11, 1792: "The editor of this paper presents his compliments to his friends and the public in general, and begs leave to inform them, that he has concluded to publish a German newspaper, which will commence on the fifth day of January next ... He is determined it shall be done on a large demy paper ... The German paper, will be at the moderate price of seven shillings and sixpence, per annum, to subscribers."
