

24°. 15 1/2 cm.

Pages: [i-iii], vi [1], [5], 6-24.

Signatures: [A] 6, C4, D2.

Not in Evans.

PH1.

141 Wilmer, James Jones, b. 1749.

Consummation: or, An end of the old church and old government generally. A sermon, delivered in Baltimore-Town, on the 22d day of April, 1792; with notes striking and explanatory; fully manifesting the power of the great Jehovah Jesus, at this time visible throughout the earth. By James Wilmer. Respectfully addressed to the citizens of Baltimore, by the author, who is going to leave the town.

Baltimore: Printed by James Angell, in Market-street. 1793.

Advertised in the Maryland journal and Baltimore advertiser of February 26, 1793, as "For publication, as soon as a sufficient number of subscribers can be obtained to defray the expense of printing."

Evans 26490.

No copy located.

142 Winter, John, d. 1821.

Address to the inhabitants of Frederick-Town and county.

Frederick or Baltimore? Printed by John Winter? 1793.

Broadside?

Title from a notice in Bartgis's Maryland gazette of August 15, 1793: "John Winter, the pretended printer of Frederick-Town, has lately published an address in Baltimore, to the inhabitants of this town and county, and expects to palm them on the illiterate as printed in this town."

Concerning the reestablishment of Winter's weekly newspaper?

Not in Evans.

No copy located.