

By Mrs. Rowson, / of the New theatre, Baltimore; /
 author of Charlotte, The inquisitor, / Victoria, &c. / [rule] / The highest wish I ever form'd has been, / Just to be plac'd above the reach of want, /
 In the blest medium between shining state, / And the hard griping hand of penury. / Enough for this,
 and, if I have to spare / A little for my suff'ring
 fellow creatures, / I shall have reach'd the height
 of my ambition. / [double rule] /
 Baltimore: / Printed by S. & J. Adams, / for Keatinge's book-store, in Market / street, three doors above / Light lane. / [rule] / 1795. //

12°. 17 1/2 cm.

Pages: [1-3], 4-61, 61 [!], 63-210, 111[!],
 212-256.

Signatures: 1 p.l., B12, C6-G6, G6-I6, K6-U6, w1.
 Not in Evans, Vail 188.

ICU.

259 Rowson, Susanna (Haswell) 1762-1824.

The / Fille de chambre, / a novel. / [rule] /
 By Mrs. Rowson, / of the New theatre, Baltimore; /
 author of Charlotte, the Inquisitor, / Victoria, &c. / [rule] / The highest wish I ever form'd has
 been, / Just to be plac'd above the reach of want, /
 In the blest medium between shining state, / And
 the hard griping hand of penury. / Enough for this,
 and, if I have to spare / A little for my suff'ring
 fellow creatures, / I shall have reach'd the height
 of my ambition. / [double rule] /
 Baltimore: / Printed [by S. & J. Adams] for Thomas
 E. Clayland, / in Gay-street. / [rule] 1795. //

12°. 16 1/2 cm.

Pages: [1-3], 4-210, 111[!], 212-256.

Signatures: 1 p.l., B12, C6-G6, G6-I6, K6-U6, w1.
 Not in Evans, Vail 189.

MH, WMMD.

260 Rowson, Susanna (Haswell) 1762-1824.

The Standard of liberty; a poetical address.
 Baltimore: 1795.

12°.

"A brief patriotic piece entitled: The standard of liberty; a poetical address, was published in pamphlet form in Baltimore in 1795 after having been enthusiastically received as an entre-acte in the