

Baltimore: Printed for George Keatinge, No. 149.
Market-street. 1796.

Evans 30347.
No copy located.

279 The Eagle of [U. S. arms] freedom; / - or, the - / Baltimore town & Fell's Point gazette. / [ornamental rule] / May reason and truth be our impartial guide. - / [double rule] / Vol. I. - No. 1, Monday, July 4, 1796 [- No. 11, Wednesday, July 27, 1796]
[colophon:] Printed (every Monday, Wednesday, & Friday) / by Pechin & Wilmer, No. 15, Baltimore- / street; - where subscriptions for this paper, at / three dollars per annum are received - and / advertisements, essays, and every article of useful / intelligence will be thankfully attended to. // [1796]

folio. 44 cm. 1 folded sheet, three columns to the page, in each issue.

Issued triweekly.

Probably not continued after July 1796; the firm of Pechin and Wilmer was dissolved on August 1, 1796.

Evans 30376.

PPL. For other copies see Brigham.

280 Elegant extracts; a collection of the favorite modern songs for the flute. - Book I - Book II Printed by J. Carr, Music store, No. 6, Gay street,
Baltimore, and B. Carr's Musical repositories,
Market street, Philadelphia and William street,
New York. 1796.

Evans 30383.

No copy located.

281 Evening amusement; being a collection of fifty airs,
songs, duets, dances, hornpipes, reels, marches and minuets, for one or two flutes or violins.
Printed by J. Carr, Music store, No. 6, Gay-street,
Baltimore, and B. Carr's Musical repositories
Market street, Philadelphia and William-street,
New-York. 1796.