

impenetrable secret, or the mysterious puzzle; containing besides the ingenuity of the invention and the intricacy of the secret (which is calculated to afford rational amusement) one hundred of the best maxims extant, intended for innocent diversion and moral instruction. These cards are put up in neat cases with directions for playing them - price 18 cents."

No copy located.

568

Child of Pallas: / devoted mostly to the / belles-letters. / [double rule] / By Charles Prentiss. / [double rule] / Quid sit pulchrum, quid turpe, quid utile, quid non, / docet. / Horace. / [vignette] / [double rule] / [no. 1-4? Dec. 5?-26? 1800]

-Baltimore- / Printed weekly, by / Warner & Hanna. / 1800 //

12°. 17 cm. front., pl.

4? numbers, of 36 pages each.

Paged continuously.

Prospectus published in the Federal gazette of December 4, 1800.

Continued through number 8, published about January 22, 1801. No record of its being published after that date has been found.

CtHWatk, DLC, ICN, MB, MH, MdEE, MdEP, MdH1, NN, PPL, RPB, British museum, Garrett, Southern book store.

569

The / Citizen and farmer's / almanac, / for the / year of Our Lord, 1801. / And the 25th of American independence. / Containing, / besides the astronomical calculations, / judgment of the weather - length of days - festivals and / other remarkable days - table of interest at six per cent - / Table shewing the value of dollars - table of coins - list / of stamp duties - Quakers yearly meetings - times of / holding federal courts, and courts for Pennsylvania, New- / Jersey, Delaware, Maryland and Virginia - list of roads - / and a general tide-table for the United States - also - / a great variety of / instructive and useful matter; / in prose and verse. / [rule] / [vignette] / [double rule] /

Baltimore: / Printed and sold by Bonsal & Niles, / No. 173, Market-street. // [1800]