

to truth.
Annapolis. 1800.

12°.

Pages: 26.

Sabin 48192.

No copy located.

579 Der General staatsbote.
Friedrich Stadt, Maryland: Gedruckt bey Matthias
Bärtgis. 1800.

Bartgis's Federal gazette of February 5, 1800, carries this notice: "Advertisements for the English and German newspapers will be thankfully received with the cash, and duly inserted in either or both, as may be required." Publication apparently continued at least into 1801, for the same notice appears in Bartgis's Republican gazette of February 18, 1801; and to the notice is added, " - The circulation of these papers being more widely extended than any other ever printed in one county."

Not in Seidensticker.

No copy located.

580 Gilpin, Johny, pseud.
The / Toddy-mill, / or The / humorous adventures of / Dick Bully. / [rules] / A caricature. / [double rule] / By Johny Gilpin [pseud.] / [double rule] / "He'll eat and drink with every body, / without paying for it, because he's bold and free; / then he'll knock down every body who won't say / as he says, to prove his abhorrence of arbitrary / power, and preserve the liberties of America." - / Huzza !!! / [ornamental rule] /
September 1, 1800. //
[Baltimore? 1800]

8°. 20 cm.

Pages: [1-3], 4-8.

No signatures.

Parody on William Cowper's John Gilpin. The opening verse,

"Dick Bully was a citizen,
A man of no renown;
A strutting officer was he,
Of Baltimore's fam'd town."