

inge, No. 133, Market street and for sale at the Bookstore."

Cf. item 679.

No copy known.

[662]

Mumford, James.

The Catholic Scripturist: or, The Flea of the Roman Catholics: shewing the Scriptures to hold the Roman Faith in above Forty of the chief Controversies now under Debate. [filet] [3 lines, quotation] [thick-thin rule] By J. Mumford, P. S. J. Revised by a Catholic Clergyman of Baltimore. [thin-thick rule] Baltimore: Printed by G. Dobbin and Murphy, 10, Baltimore-street. [row of dots] 1808.

291 [i.e. 292], [ccxciii]-ccxcvii, [2] p. 18 cm. A-Z⁶ (includes sig. V,W).

Parsons 327.

Advertised in the Baltimore American, Oct. 12, 1808, as "This day is Published."

DGU; DLC; MdMwM; MdW; PV.

[663]

Munday, William.

An Examination of the Bible; or, an impartial Investigation of Supernatural & Natural Theology: wherein the Foundations of True Religion are illustrated and established. To which are added, a Rational System of Faith, and Remarks on the Union of Church and State. [short thick-thin rule] By William Munday. [short thin-thick rule] [7 lines, quotations] [thick-thin rule] Baltimore: Printed for the Author. 1808.

280 p. 17 cm. A-Y⁶ Z².

Advertised in the Baltimore Whig, Oct. 8, 1808, as "now in readiness ... at the Baltimore Circulating Library."

CSmH; DLC; ICMe; MWA; MdBE; MdBP; MdHi; PPL.

BrMus.

[664]

Murray, John.

To the Public. Mr. Jacob Gibson, of the Senate of Maryland, and of Talbot county, having circulated false and malicious reports intended to injure my reputation, and having since, by evasions and cowardly conduct, refused to give me the satisfaction a gentleman under such circumstances has a right to demand, I therefore publish him to the world, as an Infamous Slanderer and Paltry