

address when published be sent to the Speaker of the Senate, five to the Speaker of the House of Delegates, five to the Governor and Council, and five to the R. W. D. G. Master."—Proceedings of the Grand Lodge, half yearly communication, 9th November, 1802.

The advertisement in the Baltimore Telegraphe mentioned in the preceding item may refer to this item instead.

No copy known.

[99]

Defoe, Daniel.

[The Beauties of the renowned Moll Flanders; containing her most particular Fortunes and Misfortunes. Baltimore, May, 1802]

24 p.

According to James A. Williams, from whose catalog #11, May 17, 1937, the above information was taken, this is the "first recorded American edition ... excessively rare." He has no record of the purchaser.

No copy known.

[100]

Durham, Lloyd.

Land for Sale. [filet] I will dispose of at private sale, Two Hundred Acres of Land, Situated in Harford county, within one and an half miles of Belle-Air;...

[12 lines] Lloyd Durham. July 19, 1802. P. S.—Thomas Durham offers for sale, adjoining the above, a Farm of three hundred acres of excellent Land ... [4 lines] Thomas Durham, Baltimore. [Baltimore? 1802] broadside 35 x 27 cm. Without imprint.

MdH1.

[101]

The Fair Warbler, and Laides' Vocal Remembrancer: a Collection of the most approved Songs. [wavy rule] Baltimore: Printed by G. Fryer. 1802.

225 p. 10.5 cm.

Frontispiece: shepherds and maidens under willow tree. Cut used in 1805 in The Modern Songster (item 380).

Without music.

Price 75 cents.

Advertised in the Baltimore Republican, Jan. 4, 1802. as "This Day will be published."

NWA.

[102]