

They were rearranged and a new shelf list prepared. About 8,000 folders of the original papers of the Adjutant General were labelled, but much remains to be done before they are finished.

Church Records. All of the church records have been moved from their various locations in the Stacks and placed in one alcove on the second deck. A shelf list has been typed and placed with them.

Court of Appeals Judgments. Labelling of the folders containing these papers was begun the year before. Last year about 18,000 folders were labelled to complete the job.

Account Books of Maryland Companies. These books have been rearranged and listed. They appear to have been exhibits in cases originating in the Chancery Court, some of which were carried to the Court of Appeals.

Anne Arundel County Plats. These plats were received from the Anne Arundel County courthouse in rolls in seven large cartons. They were flattened by the Repair Department and placed in folders and listed. They consist largely of Ejectment and Resurvey Plats of tracts of land in Anne Arundel County, 1789-1901, 164 folders in 7 boxes.

Land Office Papers. A large number of papers received from the Land Office several years ago were examined and classified. Most of them related to the Chancery Court or to the Land Office itself and were returned to that office (see list under Withdrawals). The rest consisting of a variety of material, such as Ship Manifests, Returns of Naval Officers, Election Returns, Levy Lists, Intendant's Accounts, Western Shore Treasurer's Accounts, etc., have been retained and set aside until time permits a more careful study of them.

Miscellaneous Executive Papers. These papers have been unfolded, placed in folders, arranged chronologically and boxed. Although purchased from a private source, they are official papers of the Executive Department. They have been placed in one of the Executive alcoves but have been kept together, 1686-1877, 433 folders in 3 boxes.

Shriver Collection. A large collection of material accumulated by the Harford County Historical Society was given to the Hall of Records by J. Alexis Shriver, in whose custody it was placed when the Society disbanded. The volumes have been arranged and listed. Some of the papers were already in folders and some attempt had been made at
