For the second successive year the Archivist can report that there has been only one resignation and no dismissals from the staff of the Hall of Records. The single resignation was that of Miss Cherie Dawson, an employee of only a few months service. She was replaced on January 1, 1945 by Miss Ruth M. Vermillion. There are three obvious explanations for this stability: the earlier exhaustion of employees subject to military call, the lessened demand for white-collar workers in Washington, and perhaps most important, the improved compensation to State Employees since the reclassifications of 1943.
