LIBRARY

Among the new accessions to our library are two local histories, both badly needed, Noma Thompson's history of Rockville and the surrounding area and Frederick Emory's history of Queen Anne's County recently re-issued by the Maryland Historical Society. We made further additions to our collections of Laws and Proceedings of the Maryland General Assembly and we received as a gift from the author a series of studies of Mason and Dixon and their "Line." Through the courtesy of the Robert W. Garrett Library we were permitted to photostat for our collection the seventeenth-century maps of Maryland which were included in the exhibit of that library at the Hall of Records during the Annapolis Tercentenary celebration.
