

We have not hesitated to use our microfilming equipment to reproduce rare copies of the publications of Maryland State Agencies. We have also purchased microfilms of materials which we need from the Library of Congress and others and, finally, we have found our cameras useful in reproducing historical materials which were loaned to us for that purpose. This last category of film is of necessity miscellaneous in nature because we must film materials of this kind when the owners make them available. Originals of the legislative journals and indexes listed here below were borrowed from the Maryland State Library. These reproductions supplement film which we purchased from the Library of Congress, and together these two projects have provided us with an almost complete series of Journals and Acts of Assembly. The Diary of General Emory was loaned by Mr. W. Tilghman Emory, a descendant, the Posey materials, including some militia rolls of the War of 1812, were loaned by Mrs. W. C. Turner. The originals of the Annapolis Evening Capital are in our vaults but they are in such poor condition that we hesitate to use them any longer. As soon as film is ready the originals are retired from circulation.

Miscellaneous	174 pages
Diary of General Thomas Emory 1837.....	67 pages
Evening Capital, May 1884-February 1899.....	17,847 pages
House Journals 1800-1824, 1830, 1836, 1844-1846, 1853....	6,041 pages
Index to Journals of the Senate and House of Delegates 1777-1793	1,030 pages
Index to Laws and Resolutions of the State of Maryland 1800-1813	75 pages
Militia Detachments Ordered into Service 1813-1814.....	82 pages
Posey Family Genealogy and Claims for Pensions 1855-1857	14 pages
Senate Journals 1800-1824	1,632 pages

SUMMARY

Total number of pages photostated.....	2,367
Total number of pages of projection prints.....	99
Total number of pages microfilmed.....	53,898

Total..... 56,364

CIRCULATION

The number of documents circulated during the past fiscal year showed a slight decrease from fiscal year 1950, and the number of searchers was also less than during the previous year. A decrease in the number of