

sity School of Law and he is the editor of several distinguished works in this field: Appeals to The Privy Council from The American Plantations, Colonial Justice in Western Massachusetts and others. He has been assisted in the historical introduction by Dr. Philip A. Crowl, now in the State Department and author of Maryland During and After The Revolution.

NOTICES OF HALL OF RECORDS COMMISSION PUBLICATIONS

The reviewer of the Twenty-Second, Twenty-Third and Twenty-Fourth Annual Reports in The American Archivist (January 1961) closes with praise for us and our work. While it is inexcusably immodest to do so, I quote him with great satisfaction: "No individual responsible for archival, manuscripts, or records administration activities can afford to overlook the Hall of Records annual reports series. They will long serve as an educational device and as a monument to one of the most gifted and dedicated men in the field."

The anonymous reviewer of The County Courthouses and Records of Maryland, Part One: The Courthouses in the Tennessee Historical Quarterly is equally sympathetic. His concluding sentence encourages us to go forward with this work: "The volume is a splendid contribution to the history of Maryland, and it suggests the need for such a study in the counties of Tennessee."

ARTICLES AND REVIEWS BY MEMBERS OF THE HALL OF RECORDS STAFF:

White, Frank F., Jr., "Advice to a Young Traveler Touring The British Isles, 1817," The Historian, November 1960.

Reviews: Katy of Catocin, by George A. Townsend; Early Maps of the Ohio Valley, by Lloyd A. Brown. Maryland Historical Magazine, September 1960.

My Odyssey: Experiences of a Young Refugee from Two Revolutions, by a Creole of Saint Domingue, edited and translated by Althea de Puech Parham; The Historians' Handbook, by Wood Gray. Maryland Historical Magazine, December 1960.