

from our records. This year was an especially good one for us in that we were privileged to serve so many dedicated searchers. Obviously, not all of them can be listed here, but the following will give you some idea of the diversity of their interests.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis F. Beirne, Biographers of Samuel Chase, Ruxton, Maryland; Whitfield J. Bell, Editor, the Papers of Alexander Hamilton, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania; The Reverend Paul E. Bohi, Minister, Magothy Methodist Church, Pasadena, Maryland; Judge William B. Bowie, research on the Bowie Family, Upper Marlboro, Maryland; S. Sydney Bradford, National Historic Sites, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania; Frank E. Bridgers, Research and Reference Department, National Archives, Washington, D. C.; Mrs. Irvin C. Brown, National Chairman, Genealogical Records, Daughters of the American Revolution; Vaughn W. Brown, Maritime Historian, Annapolis, Maryland; William L. Calderhead, Professor of History, U. S. Naval Academy; The Reverend Edward B. Carley, Assistant Pastor, St. Peter's Cathedral, Wilmington, Delaware; Lois Green Carr, Historian of Local Government in Maryland, 1689-1708, Annapolis, Maryland; Howard N. Christian, student of The Contemporary Significance of Original Land Survey Patterns in the Delmarva Peninsula, Syracuse University; Anne F. Clapp, Graduate Student, University of Maryland; Malcolm C. Clark, research on Elections before 1800, Georgetown University.

Charles E. Collins, Delegate, Frederick County; Edna P. Cook, Delegate, Montgomery County; Mrs. Eugene Mackall Childs, Children's Museum, Annapolis; The Reverend Michael J. Curley, Research for the Beatification of Father Francis X. Serlos, Brooklyn, New York; Caleb Dorsey, research on Original Tracts in Howard County, Baltimore, Maryland; Jean Muir Dorsey, genealogist of the Dorsey Family, Urbana, Illinois; Dr. Rhoda Dorsey, Professor of History, Goucher College; Francois Dousset, Inspector General of the Archives of France; William V. Elder III, Baltimore Museum of Art, Baltimore, Maryland; C. Ashley Ellefson, Associate Professor of History, Courtland College, New York; James H. Elsdon, Professor of Foreign Languages, U. S. Naval Academy; Charles E. Fenwick, President, St. Mary's County Historical Society, Leonardtown, Maryland; P. William Filby, Librarian, Maryland Historical Society, Baltimore, Maryland; Vera Ruth Filby, Town Historian of Savage, Maryland; H. Chandlee Forman, Architect-Historian, Easton, Maryland; Joy Gary, research on Patrick Creagh, Annapolis, Maryland; Sidney M. Glazer, Department of Justice, Washington, D. C.