

Genealogist; James Haw, Ph.D. Candidate, University of Virginia "Politics in Revolutionary Maryland, 1754-1778"; Mrs. Truman E. Henton, Prince George's County Historian and Author; Dr. John Hemphill II, Department of History, New York University; Laurence C. Henry, Ph.D. Candidate, Vanderbilt University, "The Face of War in the Maryland Legislative Sessions, 1740"; Daniel Higman, Botanist, Smithsonian Institution, "Land Use and Environment Disturbance in the Anne Arundel County Bay Shores"; Dr. Ronald Hoffman, Department of History, University of Maryland, "Revolution in Maryland."

Stephen Israel, Assistant to Archeological Consultant, Historic Annapolis, Inc.; Earl F. Kent, Chief, Division of Records Management, State of New York; Ross Kimmel, Indexer, Historic Annapolis Indexing Project; Lawrence Kimmel, Experienced Teachers Fellow, Institute of Southern History, The Johns Hopkins University, "Klu Klux Klan Violence in Maryland, 1921-1924"; David M. King, teacher, Calvert County Public Schools, writing on election returns; Emily M. Kutler, Researcher, NEH Project; Dr. Aubrey C. Land, Department of History, University of Georgia; Barbara Lathroum, Researcher, St. Mary's City Commission; George R. Lewis, Secretary, State Department of General Services; Glen Little, Archeological Consultant, Historic Annapolis, Inc.

James A. McAllister, author, Dorchester County Historian; Joyce McDonald, Director Historic Annapolis Research Project and Co-Director, NEH Annapolis Project; Laurence H. McDonald, M.A., Candidate, Department of History, University of Maryland, "Maryland During the Secession Movement"; Jane McWilliams, Researcher, NEH Project; Miss Louise Magruder, Professional Genealogist; J. Maistrellis, Researcher, NEH Project; Mary Gordon Malloy, Montgomery County Historical Society; William B. Marye, Baltimore County Historian; Miss Agnes Mayo, Scribe, South River Club Minutes; Russell R. Menard, Ph.D. Candidate, University of Iowa, "Political and Social Structure in 17th Century Maryland."

Mary K. Meyer, Genealogical Librarian, Maryland Historical Society; Nancy Miller, Historian, Maryland Historical Trust; Dr. Robert D. Mitchell, Department of Geography, University of Maryland, "Geography of Slavery in Colonial Maryland"; Mrs.