

Donald Mayhew, Bowie Cultural Committee, "Ogle References in Virginia Gazette, 1736-1745"; Harry Wright Newman, Professional Genealogist; Mrs. Gladys Nelker, author, Chairman, London Town Publik House and Arboretum; Nineteenth Institute of Genealogical Research; Dr. Richard Overfield, Department of History, University of Nebraska at Omaha, "Maryland Loyalists"; Edward Papenfuse, Co-Director NEH Annapolis Project and Ph.D. Candidate, The Johns Hopkins University; Anne Parrish, Keeper of the Maryland Register, Maryland Historical Trust.

Gary Norman Paul, Ph.D. Candidate, University of California, Berkeley, "Library History of American Colleges, 1775-1785"; Bruce H. Perritt, M.A., Department of Education, American University, "Study of the Certification of Elementary Teachers in Maryland"; Dr. Jacob M. Price, Department of History, University of Michigan, "18th Century International Trade"; Professor John C. Rainbolt, Department of History, University of Missouri, "Taxation Policy in Maryland after the Revolution"; Dr. James B. Rhoads, Archivist of the United States; Constance Werner Ramirez, Director, Annapolis Project, Washington Center for Metropolitan Studies; Whitman H. Ridgway, Ph.D. Candidate, University of Pennsylvania, "Maryland Political Elite, 1824-1840"; Orlando Ridout IV, Director, Maryland Historical Trust.

Dr. Edward Riley, Director of Research for Colonial Williamsburg, "Journals of Nicholas Cresswell and John Fountaine"; Mrs. Helen Robinson, Professional Genealogist; Shirdene Savage, Indexer, Historic Annapolis Indexing Project; The Reverend Edwin Schell, Executive Secretary, Baltimore Annual Conference, United Methodist Historical Society; Franklin C. Showell, Executive Director, Commission on Negro History and Culture; Mrs. D. H. Smith, Professional Genealogist; Mrs. Henry Clay Smith, Professional Genealogist; Gregory A. Stiverson, Ph.D. Candidate, The Johns Hopkins University, "Social Structure of Talbot County, Maryland 1733-1783"; Mrs. John Symmonds, Vice President, Historic Annapolis, Inc.

Carol Tilles, Researcher, NEH Project; Professor T. R. Thompson of the Department of History, University of Nebraska at Omaha, Ph.D. Candidate, University of Maryland, "British