

allowing the free navigation of said river; the said bridge to be built on piles to begin at high water mark, with a draw sufficiently wide for all vessels or boats now or hereafter navigating said river.

SEC. 2. And be it enacted, That the property in the said bridge when built, shall be vested in the said Richard Cromwell and William Krebs, their heirs, and assigns forever as tenants in common, and that the said Richard Cromwell, and William Krebs, their heirs, or assigns, or other legal representatives shall, and may demand, and receive toll for the passage of the said bridge, according to the following rates, viz: for every coach, chariot, phaeton, wagon, or other four wheel carriage or team, fifty cents; for every chaise, gig, cart, or other two wheel carriage, or team, twenty-five cents; for every single horse and rider twelve and a half cents; for every foot passenger six and one quarter cents; for every head of horned cattle, horses, or mules, six and one quarter cents; for every head of sheep, swine and so forth, four cents; and if the said Richard Cromwell, and William Krebs, their heirs, or assigns, or whoever hereafter shall own, or possess said bridge, shall exact, or receive any greater rate of toll for passing said bridge, than is herein prescribed or specified, he or they shall forfeit and pay for every such offence, the sum of twenty dollars, one moiety to the party complaining or who may sue for the same, and the other moiety to the state.

CHAP. 31.

 Property vested—
 to falls—fofciit.

SEC. 3. And be it enacted, That in case the said Richard Cromwell and William Krebs, their heirs, or assigns, should not think proper to erect the said bridge themselves, they shall have full power and authority to sell, and dispose of the points of land between which the said bridge is intended to be built, or either, his heirs, or assigns may sell and dispose of the point upon his own premises, to any person or persons, bodies politic, or corporate, who are hereby authorised and empowered to purchase, and hold the same, and in such case the purchaser, or purchasers thereof, his or their heirs, successors or assigns, or the purchaser or purchasers of the land of either, his or their heirs or assigns, with the other his heirs or assigns, shall be, and they are hereby authorised and empowered to erect, and build the said bridge, and ask, demand and receive the like tolls as aforesaid for the passage of the said bridge, and enjoy all the privileges granted by this law, in the same manner as if he or they were severally mentioned herein, and any person or persons, bodies politic or corporate, who shall at any time be the owners of said bridge when built, are hereby authorised to demand and receive the like toll as aforesaid, for the passage of said bridge, in the same manner as if he or they were severally mentioned herein.

Right transferable

SEC. 4. And be it enacted, That it shall be the duty of the owner or owners of said bridge, to cause the draw of said bridge to be removed for the passage of any boat navigating said river, within five minutes after its arrival at said bridge:

Draw regulated.