

To pay for
publishing
constitutional
amendment.

for one hundred and ten dollars in favor of W. M. Holliday, of the Annapolis Spectator; for one hundred and ten dollars in favor of Frank I. Duncan, of the Baltimore County Democrat; for one hundred and ten dollars in favor of William H. Ruby, of the Maryland Journal; for one hundred and ten dollars in favor of Parran & Powell, of the Calvert Gazette; for one hundred and ten dollars in favor of J. Briscoe Bunting, of the Calvert Journal; for one hundred and ten dollars in favor of Howard Melvin, of the Denton Journal; for one hundred and ten dollars in favor of Plummer & Plummer, of the Greensborough Free Press; for one hundred and ten dollars in favor of Vanderford Brothers, of the Democratic Advocate, of Westminster; for one hundred and ten dollars in favor of Harry M. Clabaugh, of the Westminster Carrolltonian; for one hundred and ten dollars in favor of George R. Ash, of the Cecil Democrat; for one hundred and ten dollars in favor of Daniel Bratton, of the Cecil County News; for one hundred and ten dollars in favor of Vernon B. Pennington, of the La Plata Crescent; for one hundred and ten dollars in favor of F. M. Cox, of the Port Tobacco Times; one hundred and ten dollars in favor of Adrien Posey, of the Maryland Independent, and fifty dollars in favor of Plummer & Plummer, of the Free Press; for one hundred and ten dollars in favor of W. Laird Henry, of the Cambridge Chronicle; for one hundred and ten dollars in favor of John G. Mills, of the Cambridge Democrat and News; for one hundred and ten dollars in favor of Baughman Brothers, of the Frederick Citizen; for one hundred and ten dollars in favor of Reno S. Harp, publisher of the Frederick Examiner; for one hundred and ten dollars in favor of I. M. Street, of the Harford Democrat; for one hundred and ten dollars in favor of F. W. Baker, of the Harford Ægis and Intelligencer; for one hundred and ten dollars in favor of McCombs & Co., of the Havre de Grace Republican; for one hundred and ten dollars in favor of James F. Melvin, of the Ellicott City Democrat; for one hundred and ten dollars in favor of J. B. Morrow, of the Ellicott City Times; for one hundred and ten dollars in favor of J. M. Litzinger, of the Oakland Democrat; for one hundred and ten dollars in favor of Benjamin H. Sincell, of the Oakland Republican; for one hundred and ten dollars in favor of W. B. Usilton & Son, of the Kent News; for one hundred and ten dollars in favor of Collins & Hopper, of the Chestertown Transcript; for one hundred and ten dollars in favor of Brewer & Almoney, of the Montgomery Advocate; for one hundred and ten dollars in favor of R. G. Field, of the