

ger ; but nothing contained in this section shall be so construed as to prevent the killing or capture of crows, hawks, owls, or other kinds of birds of prey ; robins may be taken or shot after the first day of September until the first day of April next following.

How construed.

SEC. 2. And be it enacted, That it shall not be lawful for any person to unnecessarily destroy the nests or take the eggs of any of the birds protected by the preceding section.

What unlawful to destroy.

SEC. 3. And be it enacted, That no person shall trap, shoot, or in any manner catch, kill, or take any partridge in Montgomery county between the fifteenth day of December and the first day of November ; nor any woodcock between the first day of January and the first day of July ; nor any pheasant between the first day of January and the first day of September ; nor any wood-duck between the first day of January and the first day of September ; nor any wild turkey between the first day of February and the first day of November ; nor any rabbit between the first day of February and the first day of September.

What unlawful to trap, etc.

SEC. 4. And be it enacted, That it shall not be lawful for any person to sell, for the purpose of being carried out of the county, or to carry out of the county for the purpose of selling, any partridge, pheasant or wild turkey.

What unlawful to sell.

SEC. 5. And be it enacted, That any person violating any of the provisions of the four preceding sections, on conviction thereof, shall be fined ten dollars, to be recovered in the name of the state before a justice of the peace, one-half to the informer, the other half for the public schools.

Penalty for violation.

SEC. 6. And be it enacted, That all acts or parts of acts in conflict with the provisions of this act be and the same are hereby repealed.

Inconsistencies repealed.

SEC. 7. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect from the date of its passage.

Effective.

Approved March 29, 1888.