

May appeal.

final, provided, that any one aggrieved by his decision may take an appeal to the circuit court for said county. When the clerk aforesaid shall mark said application "approved," he shall issue the proper license, and the party may sell under said license unless, on appeal, the same shall be revoked by the court aforesaid; and on appeal to the court aforesaid the same proceedings shall be had as on appeals from justices of the peace, and the court shall award costs in its discretion; and in case said license shall be revoked the court shall, in its discretion, award what portion of the license money paid to the clerk shall be refunded to the applicant aforesaid.

Effective.

SEC. 2. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect from the date of its passage.

Approved March 7, 1888.