

at Oakland, Garrett county, Maryland, named in this act.

Effective.

SEC. 32. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect from the date of its passage.

Approved April 5, 1888.

Chapter 419.

AN ACT to prevent the snaring and looping of pheasants and partridges in Frederick county.

Unlawful.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland, That it shall be unlawful for any person to snare or loop in any way any pheasant or partridge in Frederick county, Maryland, at any season of the year.

Liable to a fine

SEC. 2. And be it enacted, That any one snaring or looping any pheasants or partridges in Frederick county, Maryland, shall be liable to a fine of ten dollars for each pheasant or partridge snared or looped in Frederick county, Maryland, to be recovered before any justice of the peace of said county, in the name of the State of Maryland, the one-half of which fine shall go to the informer, and the balance to the school commissioners of Frederick county; and in default of the payment of said fine and the costs, said offender shall be committed to the jail of Frederick for thirty days.

Right of appeal.

SEC. 3. And be it enacted, That any one feeling himself aggrieved by any judgment of the justice of the peace shall have the right of appeal to the next term of the circuit court for Frederick county, although execution shall not be stayed unless a bond, with two good securities, in the penalty of fifty dollars shall be given by the person appealing to prosecute said appeal with effect at the next term of the circuit court.

Effective.

SEC. 4. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect from the date of its passage.

Approved April 5, 1888.