

SEC. 5. And be it further enacted, That the directors of said company shall have power to pass such by-laws and rules (not contrary to law) as they may deem best for the government and regulation of the business and affairs of said company and its officers, and may alter and change the same, from time to time, in such manner as they may deem necessary for the benefit and advantage of said company.

SEC. 6. And be it further enacted, That the directors of said company shall have power to appoint all such officers as they may deem necessary and proper in addition to those already hereinbefore provided for.

SEC. 7. And be it further enacted, That the directors of said company shall have the power to declare, from time to time, such dividend or dividends on the capital stock of said company as may have been actually earned by the company.

SEC. 8. And be it further enacted, That the said company shall have such other and further rights, powers and franchises as may be convenient and necessary for the efficient exercise of the powers hereby granted.

SEC. 9. It shall not be lawful for the said cremation company, or for any of its officers, agents or employes to cremate, or to receive for the purpose of cremating, the dead body of any person unless there shall first be delivered to the president or chief officer of said company a written certificate in one of the following forms, viz :

First. A certificate of a duly qualified medical practitioner who, having attended the deceased during his last illness and at the time of his death, shall state in such certificate positively that the cause of said death was natural, and what that cause was ; and also the certificate of another qualified medical practitioner, who must be, if possible, a resident in the immediate neighborhood of the deceased, certifying that after examining the facts of the case within his reach, the said death, to the best of his belief, was due to natural causes, and to what causes.

Second. If no medical practitioner attended the deceased during his last illness, then the record

Power to make rules,
etc.

Appoint off-cers.

Declare dividends.

Further rights

Unlawful.

Certificate necessary.