

Chapter 466.

AN ACT to permit the citizens of Charles county to shoot wild water-fowl, from sink-boxes, in the waters of Charles county.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland, That on and after the passage of this act it shall be lawful for the bona fide citizens of Charles county to shoot wild water-fowl, from sink-boxes, in the waters of said county. Lawful.

SEC. 2. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect from the date of its passage. Effective.

Approved April 5, 1888.

Chapter 467.

AN ACT to amend article twenty-eight of the Code of Public General Laws of the State of Maryland, title "County Commissioners," by adding thereto certain new sections, so as to enlarge the powers of said county commissioners.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland, That article twenty-eight of the Code of Public General Laws of the State of Maryland, title "County Commissioners," be and the same is hereby amended by adding thereto the following new sections, to be designated as sections A, B, C and D, so as to enlarge the powers of said county commissioners: Amended.

A. The county commissioners shall, in their respective counties, have control over all the public roads, streets and alleys, except in incorporated towns in their respective counties, and make such rules and regulations for repairing, cleaning, mending and perfecting the same, and providing for the payment of the cost of the same, as they may deem necessary.

B. They shall have power to levy a tax or license fee upon dogs and bitches owned, kept or harbored within their respective counties, and

Public roads, etc.