

197. The several Boards of District Road Commissioners hereafter appointed shall also proceed to classify all public roads in their respective districts; such classification shall be made as follows: All principal roads or public highways leading to or from any city or town, or principal stations or landings, or such part or portion of such roads as may be by them determined, shall be designated and classed as "County High Roads," with, as far as possible, a distinctive name to each; such other main roads, likewise leading to and from any city, town, public station or landing, or such part thereof as may be by them determined, shall be called "First Class Roads;" and those not frequently used, ordinary roads of travel or cross roads, shall be called "Second Class Roads;" such classified roads, and the distances as classed on each, when first made and returned, may be changed and altered from time to time as may be determined, and as public necessity and usage may require.

Classify public roads.

198. Each of the several District Boards of Road Commissioners shall adopt a map already made, (such as is now issued by the U. S. Geological Survey,) on which map all the public roads and highways of the county shall be so classified, marked and laid down, and further shall cause to be marked the roads or parts of roads, duly designated by name as far as possible, boundaries of all road districts properly lettered, all sections properly numbered and located; such road classification shall be clearly shown as follows: All "County High Roads," by black lines; "First Class Roads," by broken or dotted black lines; "Second Class," by red lines; and such changes as shall be made from time to time in any of the subdivisions or classifications shall be immediately changed and altered on said maps. When the several maps, divisions, classifications and reports shall have been finally adopted, a copy of each shall be made and filed in the office of the Board of County Commissioners, and the same shall be at all reasonable times open to inspection.

Adopt a map already made.

199. The clerk of the Board of County Commissioners shall make, keep or bind in a suitable book or other receptacle, to be provided for that purpose at the expense of the county a complete record, systematically filed and indexed, of every such road in the county, classified under the provisions of the preceding section.

Keep a complete record.

200. The chairmen of the several District Boards of Road Commissioners shall hold at least one meeting in each month, representing their respective district boards, and constituting a
