

of any church or school house, or sell, offer to sell or barter, or give away any spirituous or fermented liquors, or keep his, her, their or its place open on the Lord's day, commonly called Sunday; nor shall any person or persons, house, corporation, company or association open his, her, their or its place of business for the sale of any intoxicating, spirituous or fermented liquors before the hour of six o'clock, ante-meridian, and he, she or they shall close the same at eleven o'clock, post-meridian, and any person or persons, house, corporation, company or association, his, her, their or its officers, agents, servants or employes violating this provision of this Act shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall, upon conviction, be fined for each offense not less than fifty dollars nor more than one hundred dollars, or shall be imprisoned in the House of Correction for a term not less than thirty days nor more than ninety days, or may be both fined and imprisoned, in the discretion of the court or justice of the peace before whom the conviction may be had, with the right of appeal to the Circuit Court, as given in section sixteen of this Act.

Room visible from the street.

SEC. 11. And be it enacted, That any person or persons, house, corporation, company or association who shall obtain a license under the provisions of this Act, shall keep all whiskey, wine, lager beer, ale, ambrosia, or any other kind or kinds of spirituous or fermented liquors kept for sale, in a room which shall be visible from the street; no screen or curtain shall be placed at or in front of any door or window, or any stained or frosted glass used in the same in any building in which liquors may be sold or kept for sale, whether the said place be open for business or not.

Disorderly house.

SEC. 12. And be it enacted, That any person or persons, house, corporation, company or association of individuals, whether licensed or not under the provisions of this Act, his, her, their or its officers, agents, servants or employes, who shall keep a disorderly house by allowing intoxicated persons or others, by congregating in or upon their premises, to disturb the quiet of the town to the inconvenience or discomfort of any of the citizens of the town, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction thereof shall be fined and proceeded against for each and every offense, as provided in section sixteen of this Act, and the officers of said town are required to enforce this section by the arrest of all persons who are drunk on the streets, or in any public place, and acting disorderly, to be dealt with according to law, and by the arrest of any per-