

nal registry in the same manner, filling the blanks with the new precinct and district numbers of the other portion of said election precinct, and from each of said original registries the said Board of Supervisors of Elections shall strike off the names of all voters whose residences as recorded in each of said original registers are not within the bounds of the new election precinct and district of which the said original registry is labelled as the registry. These names shall be stricken off by drawing red ink lines through each of said names, and through all the entries relating to such names, but in such manner that the said original entries shall remain easily readable, and in the column headed "Remarks," the said Board of Supervisors of Election shall write or stamp opposite the name of each voter so stricken off the words "stricken off because now a resident of the new election precinct of the election district," filling such blanks with the numbers of the precinct and district, as the facts may require. And the said Board of Supervisors of Elections shall cause for each of said new precincts a duplicate registry to be prepared by having accurately copied therein the names of all of the voters not stricken off, together with all the entries on such registry relating to each one of said voters whose names are not stricken off, and they shall label each of said copies "duplicate registry of the election precinct of the election district of Baltimore county," filling the blanks for the numbers of the precinct and district, as the facts in each case may require. And the said Board of Supervisors of Elections shall certify in each of said duplicate registries that such duplicate is an exact copy of all the names and all the entries unerased upon the original from which said duplicate was copied, and the said original registry so labelled for any precinct and its copy so labelled "Duplicate," as aforesaid, shall thereafter constitute the duplicate registries of the said election precinct of the said election district.
