

shall not again be granted a license under the provision of this Act within two years from the time of such revocation. Remonstrances may be filed with the said clerk against any kind of a license under this Act at any time after such license has been granted, and as soon thereafter as practicable the Court shall set the same down for hearing, and when upon such hearing the court shall, in its discretion, determine that the public welfare and the peace and good order of the community require it, revoke such license, and the person whose license is so revoked shall not again be granted a license under this Act within two years from the date of such revocation, unless so otherwise ordered by the court; provided, however, that when the license is so revoked, the licensee shall be entitled to a return of the unearned portion of the license fees paid, and a certified copy of the order of said court revoking said license together with a statement of the clerk thereof as to the amount due shall be sufficient warrant to the officers to whom said license fees had been paid respectively for repayment of said unearned license fee. In the trial of all remonstrances, evidence of general reputation of the applicant or applicants, licensee and house shall be admissible in evidence. It is the intention of this Act that licensees to sell spirituous and fermented liquors under article 56 of the Code of Public General Laws of the State of Maryland for the year 1904 shall in all respects be subject to the conditions, provisions and penalties of this Act.

SEC. 325F. And be it enacted, That any person or persons doing business under a license issued under the provisions of this Act shall not permit any other person who has been refused a license under said provisions or whose license has been revoked under the provisions of this Act, to have any interest whatever in said business; and if it be shown to the Circuit Court for Washington county by satisfactory proof that any such person or persons has or have any interest in said business carried on under a license issued under the provisions of this Act, said court shall, after giving the party holding such license fifteen days' written notice, revoke the same.

SEC. 325G. And be it enacted, That any person or persons holding a license issued under the provisions of this Act may assign the unexpired term thereof to another, provided that said assignee shall comply with all the requirements and provisions of this Act in the same manner as is hereby required of an original applicant for a license under this Act, and upon such transfer the license so transferred shall have the consent of the clerk of the Circuit Court for Washington county indorsed thereon, and such assignee shall in every respect be
