

County Commissioners of Baltimore county granted for that purpose for a period not exceeding one year, the same to be renewed from time to time by said County Commissioners in their discretion; and any person, agent, owner or proprietor violating this provision shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and on conviction thereof shall be fined by the court before which such conviction be had, for every violation the sum of one hundred dollars and costs, and stand committed until such fine and costs be paid. The owner or owners of any such house or building used as a sweatshop, manufacturing establishment or factory where four or more persons are employed, on other than the first floor of such house or building, and the owners or lessees of any public hall, church, school or places of amusement where persons are supposed to congregate on other than the first floor of the same, shall provide suitable fire escapes for the same; and if any owner or owners, or lessees of any house or building so used shall fail to make or provide suitable fire escapes as aforesaid, such owner or owners, or lessees, shall pay a fine of two hundred dollars, to be paid to the County Commissioners as aforesaid and recovered as other fines in this State, or by imprisonment in the county jail for sixty days, or subject to both fine and imprisonment in the discretion of the court.

28. It shall not be lawful for stock of any kind to go at large in Catonsville; and any citizen may take up and impound any horse, mule, horned cattle or swine which may be found going at large in said town; and any person so taking up and impounding shall notify a justice of the peace resident therein, who shall give notice of said impounding by advertisement set up in some conspicuous place in the town, describing the stock so impounded, and that the same shall be sold at public auction at some public place within said limits four days; provided, that if the owner of any stock impounded under this section shall prove to the satisfaction of the justice of the peace that said stock did not go at large from negligence or want of care on his part, and that due diligence was used to prevent it, the owner shall have return of the property on paying all expenses of keeping, proving the same, and one dollar for taking up each of the stock.

29. Of all monies arising from the execution of the preceding section, the justice of the peace shall collect and pay to the party taking up and impounding said stock a fair compensation for his services, and the balance to the owner, who may establish his claim to said property; and in the event
