

have the right to require the requisite manual work about the prison building and premises to be done by the prisoners, but no unconvicted prisoner shall be compelled to do any work against his will, beyond taking care of his or her own cell.

193. The County Commissioners shall, so far as practicable, furnish all jail supplies by contract to be made semi-annually, and due notice of the award of such contracts shall be given; they may in their discretion appoint annually a board of visitors to the jail to consist of five persons, who will serve without compensation, and whose duty it shall be to visit said jail at least once in each month, and to make to the Commissioners such suggestions as they may consider necessary for the proper regulations of the prison. It shall be the duty of said Commissioners to establish a code of rules for the regulation of the jail and its occupants and charge and add to the same as occasion may require.

194. The warden of the jail shall hold his position for the term of two years unless sooner removed by the County Commissioners for incompetency, disobedience, neglect of duty or other cause, which in the judgment of the said Commissioners may be sufficient for such removal, but in no case shall he be removed except upon charges involving his fitness for the position and after notice thereof and the opportunity to be heard upon same. The warden shall be paid in monthly instalments an annual salary of nine hundred dollars and occupy the dwelling portions of the jail free of charge. The deputy warden shall have the privilege of occupying one of the sleeping rooms in the jail building.

195. The County Commissioners shall levy annually, such sum of money as they may deem sufficient to pay the expenses and charges for the succeeding year, for the attendance of jurors summoned to the Circuit Court for the county.

196. The clerk of said court shall, immediately upon the discharge of any juror, make out and deliver to him on demand, a certificate of the number of days such juror served; and the treasurer of said county shall, upon presentation of said certificate by the juror or his assigns, pay the amount therein certified to be due.

197. The clerk of the Circuit Court shall, upon the close of every session of said court, make out a list of jurors, stating therein the number of days each juror served, and deliver the same to said treasurer.

198. The limit of the session of the Grand Jury in Baltimore county shall be ten days, but the court may for special reasons extend the session for five days longer.
