

209. No justice of the peace for said county shall engage in the discharge of his duties as justice in a bar-room of a tavern or public house of that character; and any justice so offending shall be liable to indictment by the grand jury of said county, and on conviction shall be fined twenty dollars, to be paid to the County Commissioners of said county for the use of the county; and on a second conviction shall be disqualified from holding office.

210. It shall be the duty of the County Commissioners, on the last Tuesday in April in each year, to appoint one of the constables in each district of the county to inspect licenses in the district; and the constables so appointed shall visit every place of business in his district, the proprietors whereof are required to have licenses immediately before the May and December terms of the court, and shall require the proprietor of each place of business to produce a license; and in case of a refusal to produce the same, the constable shall arrest the proprietor so refusing and take him before a justice of the peace, who shall take recognizance from him, with security, to appear before the next term of court to answer the charge of selling without a license; and if upon trial of such person so recognized, he shall produce a license, the court may, in its discretion, cause the party indicted to pay the cost of the prosecution as a punishment for his refusal to produce the license when required by the constable; and the said constables shall return to the grand juries for the said terms of the circuit court lists of all places of business in their respective districts, which list shall contain the names of persons doing business at each place, the character of business, the date of the license, which shall include the year for which it is issued, and the name therein. Each constable appointed by the County Commissioners as inspector of license shall receive from them a fee of ten cents for each license inspected by him, on making affidavit that he has personally inspected said license.

211. Constables in Baltimore county shall be entitled to the fee prescribed by law for the particular services rendered by them; provided, that no constable in said county shall be entitled to receive from the County Commissioners more than fifteen dollars in fees for his services in criminal cases in any one month; and provided, further, that no constable shall be entitled to receive any fee in connection with the case of any person charged with violating the provisions of chapter 397 of the Acts of 1892. No constable shall deputize any person to act in the service of any writ whatever for him or in his behalf.

212. Justices of the peace in Baltimore county shall be entitled to charge for their services in criminal cases the follow-
