

who is under twenty-one years of age, to drink any such spirituous or fermented liquors sold or bartered or given by him, he shall on conviction for the first offense pay a fine of not less than fifty dollars, nor more than two (200) hundred dollars, and for the second offense he shall pay a fine of not less than fifty dollars, nor more than two hundred dollars, together with the costs of the prosecution, or be confined in jail for not less than one month, nor more than six months, or be both fined and imprisoned at the discretion of the court, and it shall be the duty of the court before whom such person shall be convicted to suppress his or her license.

236. One-fourth of all moneys paid to the said clerk for license fees under the provisions of this sub-title shall be held by him for the use of the State, and paid over and accounted for as money received for license has been heretofore accounted for, and the remainder thereof shall be paid by him to the treasurer of Baltimore county for county uses.

237. The provisions of this sub-title shall not be construed to authorize the issue of license to sell spirituous or fermented liquors at any place in said county, where the sale of spirituous or fermented liquors is not now authorized by existing law.

238. Druggists and apothecaries shall not be required to obtain license under this sub-title, but they shall not sell intoxicating liquors, except on the written prescription of a regular physician, nor more than once on any one prescription of the physician, and every druggist or apothecary shall keep a book for the special purpose, and enter therein the date of every sale of intoxicating liquors made by him, the person to whom sold, the kind, quantity and price thereof, and the purpose for which it was sold; and any failure to comply with the provisions of this section, or to produce the book before any court of justice when so to do, shall render such druggist or apothecary so failing liable to the same penalties as if he had sold intoxicating liquors without a license; and any physician who shall wilfully prescribe any intoxicating liquors, as a beverage, to persons of known intemperate habits, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be subject to the same penalties.

239. It shall not be lawful for any club or corporation located in Baltimore county, heretofore formed or hereafter to be formed under the general laws of this State or under any special law thereof, to give, barter or sell any spirituous or fermented liquors to any member of said club or corporation, or to any other without having first taken out a license under the provisions of this sub-title, and the application of any such
