

298. All primary elections held under the provisions of this article shall be by precincts or districts, as the case may be, and at every such election the polls shall be open for such time as may be prescribed by the State central committee or the county executive committee ordering said primary election, precinct meeting or other meeting.

299. Every primary election shall be presided over and conducted by officers to be selected in the manner prescribed by the usages, rules, regulations or customs of the party holding such primary.

300. Every ballot box used at such primary elections shall be so placed in a window or elsewhere that the voters may conveniently see every ballot received by the judges and deposited in the ballot box, and no screen or other obstruction to such view of any ballot by the voters shall be allowed.

301. The rooms used for polling places at such elections shall be of a reasonable size, and there shall be allowed at all times in the polling places, one challenger for each ticket, the judges and clerks, and after the election is closed, any candidate or persons designated by him and such other persons as in the judgment of the judges of elections, it may be proper to admit to guarantee the fairness of the count, shall be entitled to be present during the counting of the ballots.

302. No primary election shall be held unless at least two weeks' notice of the holding of the same shall be given by publication at least once a week in one or more papers published in the said county.

303. At any time before or during any such primary election held for the purpose herein provided, the candidates, or a majority thereof named on any ticket to be voted for at such primary election, shall have the right to name one person as challenger at the polls for such election; and said challengers and each of them shall be entitled to be present at such election in the room occupied as the polling place, at least fifteen minutes before any ballot box shall be opened, until the close of the election and the signing of the proper returns.

304. If at any primary election, precinct meeting or other meeting in Baltimore county of any political party, held for the purpose of selecting one or more candidates for public office to be voted for by the people of said county, or for the purpose of selecting delegates to any convention of such political party, any person shall knowingly personate and vote, or attempt to vote, in the name of any other person, whether living or dead or fictitious, or vote or attempt to vote more than
