

men. They shall also appoint a treasurer and assign his duties and allow him such compensation as they shall deem proper, not to exceed three dollars per annum. The treasurer shall receive and disburse, on the order of the Burgess, all moneys collected under any of the ordinances of the corporation, and shall give bond to the Burgess and Council of Myersville, with such security as they shall require, and in such sum as they shall deem adequate, not less than five hundred dollars ($500). He shall report annually to the Burgess and Councilmen, and as often as required by them, the financial condition of the town, with an account of all money received and expended, with the proper vouchers, which said account shall at all times be open for the inspection of any voters in said corporation, as may be published in a county newspaper. The treasurer shall collect all taxes levied by the Burgess and Councilmen, and shall have the same powers to distrain and sell therefor as collectors of county taxes. The secretary shall enter in a book to be kept by him for that purpose, all ordinances passed by the Burgess and Council, which ordinances shall be signed by the Burgess and attested by the secretary, and which book shall be open at all times for public inspection, and accessible to the Burgess, and copies of all ordinances signed and attested as aforesaid shall be put up in the most public places, or printed in any newspaper published in said town in order that the same may be generally made known.

9. The Burgess and Councilmen may enact ordinances for the following purposes, to wit: To open new streets and close, straighten, widen and grade streets; to grade, level and repair sidewalks; construct causeways; may adopt and provide efficient system of drainage to maintain its cleanliness and preserve the health of the town; to suppress and remove all nuisances and obstructions; to inspect all stables, pens, factories and other places detrimental to health; to regulate and keep in repair streets, lanes and alleys; to restrain and prohibit gaming; to provide for licensing theatrical or other public exhibitions or amusements within the town; for the prevention and extinguishing of fires and to purchase and keep in repair and preservation a fire engine and apparatus, and to provide for the establishment and maintenance of fire and water departments; to license or tax dogs within the corporate limits of Myersville; to suppress drunkenness, vice and immorality; to provide for the maintenance of order and quiet around and upon church property; to punish by fines breaches of the peace, and preserve the peace, order and quiet of the town; to assess the property within said taxable limits, and to levy