

Laws of Maryland of 1917.

MARYLAND, Sct.:

At an Extraordinary Session of the General Assembly of the State of Maryland, convened by Executive Proclamation, on the Twelfth day of June, 1917, and adjourned on the Twenty-seventh day of June, 1917; the Honorable Emerson C. Harrington being Governor of the State, the following Laws were enacted, to wit:

CHAPTER 1.

AN ACT to encourage and assist in the establishment of a military camp, by the Government of the United States, within the State of Maryland; providing, in the event such a camp is established, for the clearing of the site thereof, at the expense of the State; providing for the acquisition by gift, devise, bequest, purchase, lease or in any other way, or by condemnation, of property necessary or desirable for such camp site, or the purposes thereof; providing for the use and occupation of such camp site by the United States Government without charge or rental; prohibiting the selling, giving away or otherwise disposing of spirituous, fermented, malt or intoxicating liquors within a prescribed zone of two miles surrounding the land used for such camp site, or other military purposes connected therewith, and repealing all laws inconsistent with such prohibition; authorizing the appointment of not exceeding five special policemen, and providing their compensation, for the purpose of patrolling said zone for the enforcement therein of this Act and of the other
