

fee, and from this list the town bailiff shall from time to time call out persons for service, and he shall allow no person to escape from the service. On or about September in each year a second list shall be made by the town clerk, assisted as aforesaid, including persons becoming liable to serve between the first day of June and the first day of December in the current year, and this list shall be delivered to the town bailiff as soon after the first of September as convenient, and he shall call on every person named therein to pay him fifty cents, and on such payment he shall give to the person a receipt exempting from service during the second half of the current year. Within five days from the first day of December the town bailiff shall make a list of those persons who have not paid the exemption fee, and said officer shall place the names on his list of persons liable to service. The town bailiff shall make monthly returns to the town clerk of the moneys collected, and shall pay over the same to him. Any person who shall fail to pay when called on by the town bailiff may still pay at any time before the final list has been made by the town bailiff, and shall pay fifty cents additional in order to exempt him from service. The Commissioners of Oxford shall have full power and authority to pass one or more ordinances for executing, carrying out and enforcing the provisions thereof and providing systematic arrangements in respect thereto.

SEC. 4. And be it enacted, That this Act shall take effect from the date of its passage.
