

United States, above twenty-one years of age, who shall have bona fide resided in the town for two years next preceding the election at which they shall offer to vote, shall be entitled to vote for said president and commissioners.

SEC. 191. On the third Monday in March, in the year 1911 (and on the same date biennially thereafter), said voters shall elect a president of said board, who shall serve for the two years thence ensuing, or until his successor is duly elected and qualified; also on the third Monday of March, 1911, said voters shall elect four commissioners for terms to be determined as follows: As soon as said commissioners have been elected and qualified they shall by lot divide themselves into two classes, two of said commissioners to serve for two years from the date of their election, or until their successors are elected and qualified, and two to serve for one year from the date of their election, or until their successors are duly elected and qualified; and on the third Monday of March, 1912, and on that date annually thereafter, said voters shall elect two commissioners to serve for two years from the date of their election, or until their successors are elected and qualified.

SEC. 192. The president and commissioners of said town shall annually designate the time and place of holding said election and give at least ten days' notice thereof by notices set up at five of the most prominent places in said town; and at a meeting of said board prior to the third Monday in March in each year shall appoint some person to act as judge of said election, who before acting as such shall qualify in the same manner as judges of election for State and county officers in said county are required to qualify, before a Justice of the Peace of said county, and shall open the polls at two o'clock P. M. on the third Monday in March in each year, and close the same at six o'clock P. M.; and said president and commissioners shall also appoint at said meeting a person to act as clerk of said election, who shall qualify in like manner as said person so as aforesaid appointed as judge; and the person voted for president as aforesaid at said election who shall receive the highest number of votes shall be president as aforesaid, and the persons in number according to the previous section voted for at said election for commissioners for said town who shall, respectively, receive the highest number of votes, shall be commissioners as aforesaid.

SEC. 193. If at any election to be held as aforesaid it shall appear by the certificate of the said judge and clerk of said election that any two or more persons voted for as president, or any two or more persons voted for as commissioners have received the same number of votes, so that there shall be no
