

✓

GEORGE B. MURPHY.

Mr. George B. Murphy was born in Baltimore July 23, 1870. He was educated in Miss Clark's private school and in the public schools of Baltimore—graduating from the Colored High School in 1890. Since his graduation he has taught in the public schools of Baltimore. He is at present principal of the Robert Brown Elliott School No. 112, which is probably the largest elementary school exclusively for colored children in the United States. The faculty numbers forty-two, with an enrollment of more than eighteen hundred pupils. Notwithstanding his many duties incident to the running of a large school, Mr. Murphy has for many years been interested along other lines of endeavor, through which the public has profited greatly. He is a ruling elder and treasurer of the Madison Street Presbyterian Church, having held the latter office for sixteen years. He has been secretary of the Board of Managers of the Maryland Home for Friendless Colored Children for more than twelve years; he is a director in the Y. M. C. A., president of St. James' M. B. Society, probably one of the oldest and most highly respected societies in the city, and actively connected with most of the educational organizations of the City of Baltimore and the State of Maryland.