

Sub-Section 2. The said Inspector shall carefully weigh one bushel in every sixty of wheat, and one bushel in every one hundred of corn, rye and oats, for the purpose of ascertaining the average weight of the cargo, or parcel of grain, and that in weighing grain sold, it shall not be necessary to measure sixty bushels of wheat, or one hundred bushels of other grain, before taking a draft for weighing; but it shall be the privilege of either party, at any stage of the delivery of the grain, to require that any intermediate draft shall be weighed, and if each party shall have caused an intermediate draft to be weighed, the average weight of the two drafts shall be taken as the accurate weight of the said sixty, or one hundred bushels, as the case may be, and in case only one of the parties shall require an intermediate draft to be weighed, then the average weight of said intermediate draft, and the Inspector's draft shall be taken as the weight of said sixty, or one hundred bushels, as the case may be; provided, that nothing herein contained shall require grain to be inspected, but that it shall be optional with the seller to have his grain inspected or not, under the law, as he may desire.

Mode of inspecting grain.

Proviso.

Sub-Section 3. In case of a refusal of the purchaser to accept grain after the decision of the Inspector General, as provided for in section three hundred and seventy-nine and three hundred and eighty of Article four of Code of Public Local Laws, double the damage with ten per centum added thereto, may be recovered before a Justice of the Peace, the Court of Common Pleas, or the Superior Court of Baltimore city, according as the amount sued for may correspond with their jurisdiction, that the said suits shall be heard and tried within five days after bringing said suit before a Justice of the Peace, and at the first term of the said courts, and in the Court of Appeals at the first term, if appeal be taken.

Refusal to accept grain after inspection; damages.

Sub-Section 4. The term grain used in this Article, shall be construed to mean wheat, rye, oats, corn, buckwheat and barley, and that the standard weight of wheat shall be sixty pounds to the bushel; rye and corn each, fifty-six pounds to the bushel; and oats, thirty pounds to the bushel; buckwheat, forty-eight pounds to the bushel; and barley, forty-seven pounds to the bushel; and in Construction.