

CHAPTER 43.

AN ACT to amend sections thirteen and fifteen, of Article ninety-eight, of the Code of Public General Laws entitled, Wild Fowl, relating to the catching and killing of Partridges, Woodcock and Pheasants. Passed Jan. 25, 1862.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland, That section thirteen, of Article ninety-eight, of the Code of Public General Laws entitled, Wild Fowl, be amended and re-enacted so as to read as follows: Sec. 13, art. 98, amended.

No person shall trap, shoot, or in any manner catch or kill any Partridges, between the fifteenth day of January and the twentieth of October, nor any Woodcock, between the first day of February and the tenth day of June, nor any Pheasants, between the first day of February and the twelfth day of August, in each year. The killing, at certain seasons, of Partridges, Woodcock and Pheasants prohibited.

Sec. 2. That section fifteen of said Article, be amended and re-enacted, so as to read as follows: Section 15 amended.

Any person violating either of the preceding sections, shall pay a fine of five dollars, to be recovered before a Justice of the Peace of the county where the offence was committed, which fine shall be paid to the County Commissioners for the county in which the case shall be tried, for the use of the common school fund. Penalty, &c.

Sec. 3. This act shall take effect from the day of its passage. In force.
