

three days from ten o'clock A. M. until two o'clock P. M. unless more than one thousand shares shall be sooner subscribed; and no person, copartnership or corporation, shall be permitted to subscribe for more than ten shares of the said stock during the first day of opening the said book; and each person, at the time of subscribing, shall pay to the commissioners five dollars on each share by him, her or them subscribed; and the said commissioners may close the said subscription at such time, after one thousand shares shall be subscribed, or after the third day of keeping the same open as above directed, as they shall deem proper; and if more than one thousand shares shall be subscribed, the commissioners shall reduce the subscription to one thousand shares, and apportion the same among the subscribers, by striking off from the largest number of shares in succession, and by allotment, if necessary, giving, as far as may be practicable, at least one share to each subscriber; and a certificate of such subscription and apportionment shall be entered on the subscription book, and signed by three or more of the said commissioners, who shall deliver the said book, and all money received by them, after deducting the expenses incurred in receiving and apportioning the subscriptions, to the directors of the said company, when elected as hereinafter provided; and every person who by subscription, transfer or otherwise, shall become entitled to one or more shares of the said stock shall, in virtue thereof, become a member of the corporation created by this act, and on being divested of such stock by transfer or otherwise, shall cease to be a member thereof.

Sec. 2. And be it enacted, That as soon as three hundred shares of the said capital stock shall be subscribed, the subscribers, as holders of the said stock, their successors and assigns, shall be and they are hereby incorporated into a company, by the name of The Baltimore Flint Glass Company, and by that name shall be capable in law of purchasing, holding, improving, selling, leasing and conveying, estates real, personal and mixed, effects and property, so far as the same shall be necessary for the commencing, establishing and carrying on, the making or manufacture of glass, in or near to the city of Baltimore, obtaining materials therefor, and disposing thereof, and all matters necessarily connected therewith, and no further; and shall have perpetual succession, and by the said corporate name may sue and be sued, and plead, answer and defend, and may have and use a common seal, and the same may alter and renew; and shall have and enjoy, and may exercise, all the powers, rights and privileges, necessary and incident to a corporation; as other corporate bodies may lawfully do, for the purposes and in the manner mentioned in this act.

Company incorporated