

CHAP. 263.

or by their clerk, in the act passed at December session, eighteen hundred and thirty-three, chapter one hundred and thirteen, the said commissioners, or their clerk, shall designate the amount of assessment of real estate, and also of personal estate, of each person embraced in the lists.

Regulation in regard to collection

Sec. 4. And be it enacted, That the proceedings to obtain a sale of any real estate to pay any unliquidated school tax or arrearages of the same, shall be the same in all respect as is used to effect the sale of land to pay county rates, and the duties of collectors of school tax, and of the commissioners of the tax and their clerk, shall be the same in this respect as are directed by law in regard to sales by collectors for county assessments, and that the right and obligation of tenants to pay the school tax, and to deduct the amount from their rent, shall be the same as is now provided in reference to county rates.

Right to tuition free of charge

Exception

Sec. 5. And be it enacted, That all the white children of the said districts, shall have the privilege of being taught in said schools free of any charge for tuition, except children residing in said districts having property elsewhere, not taxed for the support of schools in this State, and none in said districts where they reside, or whose parents have property thus situated, who shall be liable to charges for tuition, to be regulated by the trustees, or a majority of them, and for books and stationary, if furnished, if the trustees, or a majority of them, shall be of opinion that such children, or parents of such children, are able to liquidate such charges, and if, in the judgment of such trustees, or a majority of them, it shall be expedient and proper to make and demand such charges; Provided, that nothing herein contained shall be construed to prevent children, living in one district, and possessing, or the parents of such children possessing, property in another district, from receiving and enjoying all the benefits and advantages of the school in the district where such child or children may reside; and further, that the trustees, or a majority of them, shall have full power to expel any pupil or pupils from the schools, at any time, for immorality or extraordinary or continued insubordination, gross inattention, or other improper conduct.
