

Passed Mar. 4, 1833 An act Incorporating the Washington Medical College of Baltimore.

Colleges established.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland, That a Medical college be, and the same is hereby established in the city of Baltimore, by the name of "The Washington Medical College of Baltimore," upon the following fundamental principles: The said College shall be founded and maintained upon the most liberal plan, for the benefit of students of every country and every religious denomination, who shall be freely admitted to equal advantages and privileges of education, and to all the honors of the College, according to their merit, without requiring or enforcing any religious or civil test, or urging their attendance upon any particular religious worship or service, nor shall any preference be given in the choice of a President, Professor, Lecturer, or other officer of said College, on account of his particular religious profession, but regard shall be solely paid to his moral character, and other necessary qualifications for the place for which he may be chosen.

Principles defined

Professors named.

Sec. 2. And be it enacted, That the following named persons be and they are hereby constituted professors of said College, to wit: Horatio G. Jamison, M. D., professor of Surgery and Surgical Anatomy; Samuel K. Jennings, M. D., professor of Materia Medica and Therapeutics; William W. Handy, M. D., professor of Obstetrics and the diseases of women and children; Thomas E. Bond, M. D., professor of the theory and practice of Medicine; Samuel Annan, M. D., professor of Anatomy and Physiology, and James B. Rogers, M. D., professor of Chemistry.

Corporate powers granted.

Sec. 3. And be it enacted, That the said Professors and their successors shall be, and they are hereby declared to be, one community, corporation, and body politic, to have continuance forever, by the name of "The Washington Medical College of Baltimore."

Name and style.

Powers granted.

Sec. 4. And be it enacted, That the said Professors and their successors, by the same name, shall be able and capable, they and their successors, to take and hold in fee, or for any less estate or estates, any lands, tenements, annuities, pensions, or other hereditaments within this State, by the gift, grant, bargain and sale, alienation, enfeoffment, confirmation, release, or devise of any person or persons,